STREUVE and Golddy have been released from the St. Louis club. Golddy has gone to Evansville to go in his old official position, while Streuve will catch for the club there.

Ross is evidently building up. The Commercial Gazette says of him: "Mr.
Ross improved yesterday's game very well. He does not claim to be able to start in on Kelly pace, but he is steadily improving, and if let alone will make an excellent umpire. We ask for him the kindest of treatment from the big crowd of to-day. So far as the Cincinnati club is able, they will protect him from any unjust usage by spectators."

the Fortresses in the South.

Special to the Gazette.

GALVESTON, July 31.—Mr. David Hall, joint superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio and Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Telegraph companies, returned from New York today and states that a contract has been entered into between the above named companies for a very extensive competing system of telegraph throughout this state.
The Santa Fe company will immediately put up additional wires along their lines of railway between Galveston, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth, and extend their system to Austin, San Antonio, Waco and other important points in the state.

Politicians are a sorry lot, anyway, and we would like to see all good preachers holding aloof from them and upholding the party of temperance and morality.

About 200 different guide books to summer resorts have been received in this office. They are very pretty, but lack something. We have been trying to think what it was for a month back, and it has just occurred to us that the only thing to make them a thing of beauty and a joy forever is a pass accompanying each.—[Brooklyn Times.]

Gross recently telephoned Harry Wright asking what the Philadelphia club would pay him for the remainder of the season in case he could get his lease. The answer was: "Not a cent."

TELEGRAPHIC MARKETS.

New York Stock Market.

RAILWAYS strong and higher.

State securities quiet.

Speculation at the Stock exchange was active and buoyant, and there was a general and sharp advance in prices. The attempt of the larger bears to corner being unsuccessful yesterday had the effect of bringing on orders from the smaller class of traders operating for a decline, and this in connection with buying for long account brought about an almost uninterrupted advance in prices, except near the close, when the embarrassment of a tea house was used to raid the market. When it became known that the assets of the firm in question were double the liabilities, a rally took place and the market left off firm. There was an advance in prices, based on favorable advice from the West concerning cereals, and on cables from London that the weather in England was against the crops.

After business hours it was announced that the steamship America, from Queenstown for New York, had one hundred thousand pounds specie, the advance ranged from 14 to 15 per cent.; Northwest rose 5, preferred 2,
